SURVEYORS HAVE LEFT THE CITY,

Data Obtained for a New Pennsylvania Route.

TO RUN NORTH OF MASSILLON.

It is Not Probable that the Short Line Will be Built for Years—Surveys from Wooster to State Line.

The corps of Pennsylvania surveyors which has been stationed in Massillon since December 1, packed up and left the city Thursday for Pittsburg and will report to headquarters for assignment to another locality. The Massillon corps is one of several employed constantly by the railroad company in projecting new routes, which as a rule will follow the general line of the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne & Chicago branch. Another corps has been stationed at Louisville for several months, but this has also completed its work there and reported to the head offices.

During the past year the company has been given maps, drawings and data concerning land between Wooster and the Pennsylvania state line. The Massillon corps surveyed the land north of the city and projected a new line running east from stone quarry hill, north of Meyer's lake and north of Canton, meeting the present line at a point between Louisville and Maximo. Surveys were made for a double track road.

The surveyors have no knowledge when these surveys will be used by the company, if ever. They were instructed to do their work and supply the chief engineer's office with data desired by him and his associates. Officials have often said they desired to eliminate the curve in the old line at Massillon and vicinity. A straight line running east from a point one mile west of Massillon would be of great service to the fast trains. If this line should be built Massillon and Canton would not be on the short route.

An attempt was made by the surveyors to find some means to lengthen the curve in the old track just west of the station, but this was found to be impossible without great expense, which would necessitate the removal of one or two of the largest manufacturing plants in the city. Should a route be built north of the city, it will be a level road requiring a great amount of filling in the canal and river bottoms and a corresponding cut through the hills northeast of the city.

THE EISTEDDFOD.

Secretary W. A. Davis Says it Will be a Great Event.

From the Canton Morning News: Secretary W. A. Davis, of the Welsh Singing Society, of this city, reports that the eisteddfod, to be given on the Fourth of July in the Auditorium, will be a record breaker; in fact, as he states, "the greatest entertainment consisting of the largest number of singers ever gotten together in the world."

Entries to date of mixed choruses are: Wheeling and Martins Ferry choruses of 100 voices, under direction of Prof. George Rowland; Utica, N. Y., chorus under the direction of Prof. I. R. Daniels, consisting of 15 voices, they having engaged a special train to convey them to Canton; Mount Carmel, Pa., chorus, under direction of Prof. I. R. Hopwood, of 125 voices; Pittsburg chorus, under direction of Prof. John Harris, consisting of 150 voices; Cleveland chorus, under the direction of William J. Davis, consisting of 225 voices; Alliance chorus, under direction of Prof. John James, 135 voices; Massillon chorus, under direction of Prof. William Simpson, 165 voices; Lima chorus, under direction of Prof. John Bynon, 125 voices; Canton chorus, under direction of Prof. McAfee, 140 voices; Tuesday Musical club, of Akron, under direction of the world renowned tennor singer, Prof. Harry Irvin Williams, 150 voices.

In addition to the entries of mixed choruses above mentioned, seven male choruses and five female choruses have entered to compete for the prizes offered.

TOE CUT OFF.

Peter Nalbach Fell Under a Pennsylvania Freight Train.

Peter Nalbach, of 462 Sheridan street, Canton, met with a painful accident at the Pennsylvania station at 1:45 o'clock Thursday afternoon. He was walking along the railroad on the south platform when a freight train came up on the eastbound track. He lunged against the train and was knocked under it. The big toe of his left foot was cut off. The injured man was taken to Mt. Airy hospital in the police patrol wagon. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nalbach, of Navarre.

CONVENTION ARRANGEMENTS

Miss Bertha M. Martin Returns from Minneapolis.

THE DAUGHTERS OF VETERANS.

The National Encampment Will be Held in August—The State Encampment Will be Held Next Week.

Miss Bertha M. Martin, of 92 Park street, national president of the Daughters of Veterans, has returned from a visit to Chicago and Minneapolis in the interest of the organization over which she presides. She attended Memorial day exercises in Chicago and later went to Minneapolis, where the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Woman's Relief Corps and the Daughters of Veterans will be held in August.

While in Minneapolis Miss Martin completed arrangements for quarters for the national officers of the Daughters of Veterans. These will be in the West hotel. The convention will be held in the Knights of Pythias lodge room in the Masonic temple.

While in that city Miss Martin instituted a Daughters of Veterans tent, No 1., of Minnesota, with thirty-five charter members. Her work received the endorsement of Commander Longfellow of the G. A. R., Mrs. I. K. Martin, president of the Minnesota department W. R. C., and others interested in this work. During Miss Martin's visit in Minneapolis a public meeting was held in the Thirteenth avenue M. E. church in her honor, when addresses were given by Commander Longfellow, Mrs. I. K. Martin, Past Commander in Chief Torrence and Junior Vice Commander in Chief Fowler. Miss Martin responded. She was in that city four days.

Miss Martin also completed arrangements for quarters for the Ohio and Massachusetts delegates of the Daughters of Veterans. Special coaches will be furnished for the delegates and a picturesque route has been chosen for the trip.

The encampment of the department of Ohio, G. A. R., W. R. E. and D. of V. will be held in Dayton next week. Delegates from the state will be chosen for the national conventions. Miss Martinn is not a candidate for re-election. Chicago has a candidate, who seems at present to be in the lead.

MONEY WAS FORWARDED.

$301 was Sent to the San Francisco Sufferers.

I. M. Taggart, of the Merchants National bank, representing the committee appointed by Mayor Frantz to receive contributions for the San Francisco sufferers, forwarded to the authorities of that city $301 Wednesday, the amount that was subscribed in Massillon. The committee had received but very few donations during the past few days.

COMMENCEMENT AT CANAL FULTON

Class of 1906 Made Its Bow Thursday Night.

GRADUATES THREE IN NUMBER.

Superintendent Morris, of the Alliance Public Schools, Delivered the Class Address—Extracts from the Graduates' Compositions.

The class of 1906 of the Canal Fulton high school made its bow to the public before a good sized audience in the high school auditorium Thursday evening. The hall was artistically decorated with palms, potted plants and flowers, and the class colors, crimson and gold, were displayed. The class motto is "Onward and Upward are Our Beacon Lights." The class address was delivered by Superintendent Morris, of the Alliance public schools, who spoke eloquently on "The Money Value of an Education." Superintendent Focht gave the class history. The orations showed careful preparation and were well delivered.

Presentation of diplomas by Dr. W. E. Moulton, president of the board of education.

Benediction, the Rev. E. S. Klotz.

"Half Finished Work," by Miss Mabelle Ginther: The world in which we now reside may be considered as a great nursery of our future and eternal existence in which we are educating and preparing ourselves for higher scenes and contemplation and enjoyment. In this point of view it is important to consider that our present views and past recollections will be carried along with us, that our virtues or vices will be as immortal as ourselves and influence our future as well as our present happiness. There is work of some kind for everyone of us, no matter how weak or feeble, how poor or humble, yet there is something for us to do. If each does his best he has attained perfection in his degree, and only this is required to make this world a paradise. It is not by dreaming of greatness but by steadily pursuing the duty of the hour that one becomes great.

"Little Things," by Miss Esther M. Groff: Little things should not be despised, for who can fathom the untold possibilities which lie within them? The nerve of a tooth not so large as the finest needle will sometimes drive a strong man to distraction; a mosquito can make an elephant absolutely mad. The warrior who withstood death in a thousand of its forms may be killed at last by a tiny insect. Drops of water make up the sea; sands, the bar in the harbor's mouth on which great vessels are wrecked. In a single acorn lies the creation of a thousand forests and great navies. Every day is a little life and a whole life is but a day repeated. Life is made up of little things. He who travels over continents must go step by step. He who writes books must do it sentence by sentence. He who learns a science must master it fact by fact, principle by principle. The close observance of little things is the secret of success in busines, art and science. In morals and in religion it is by little things—by little influences acting upon us or by seemingly little decisions made by us—that each one is going, not in leaps, yet surely in inches, either to life or death eternal.

Valedictory, by Miss Cora Meyers: Standing on the awakening hill tonight we look back upon the broad and ever lovely valley of childhood, the cradle of our dreams. Must we leave it? Must we turn from familiar ways and customs to seek others of which we know not? Will life then lose its beauty when each one does her duty? We have been told that it is time to awaken and cast off the trappings of childhood, to face the world—to face it bravely, with one thought uppermost in our minds, "Life is duty." No more in dreams shall we exist, but in the stern realisms of life. Great deeds recorded were performed by a few but there are many more waiting for me and for you. One should learn to value duty above reputation, and consciousness of right done more than the world's praise. There may be much faltering and stumbling and many defeats. But if the spirit is strong and heart upright, no one need fear of ultimate success.

The same corps of teachers will serve in the Canal Fulton schools next year. They are: Superintendent, John H. Focht, Miss Palulah Porter, first year; Miss Amy Hoover, second and third years; Miss Elizabeth Sorn, fourth and fifth years; Miss Nellie Kittinger, sixth and seventh years; A. R. Mayer, eighth and ninth years; Superintendent Focht, high school.

This is an increase of 171 scholars since the last enumeration. Of the 4,546 young people of school age, 2,338 are males and 2,208 females.

HOSPITAL NOTES.

Superintendent Eyman Has Returned from Columbus.

ALFALFA IS GROWING WELL.

Excellent Crops of Wheat and Corn Looked for by the Gardener — Thirty-five Hundred Tomato Plants Set Out—New Well is Down Eighty Feet.

Superintendent H. C. Eyman returned Wednesday morning from Columbus, where he presented the plans and specifications of the sewer line and filtration beds to the state officias. The plans were presented to the state secretary, state engineer, all members of the state board of health, the state auditor and Governor Pattison for approval. The state board of health will meet in Canton on June 19 and will visit the Masillon state hospital on the following day. While at the hospital the members will go over the proposed sewer line and the filtration beds, which will be placed near the canal on the newly purchased farm. As soon as plans for the proposed sewer line are accepted by the board of health, work will be started on these improvements

The gardener at the hospital has finished planting potatoes, sweet corn, tomato plants, and the other garden truck. The late cabbage plants have not all been set out. They will be set out some time next week. Eighty acres of potatoes and eighteen acres of sweet corn were planted. About thirty-five hundred tomato plants have been set out. The wheat and corn at the hospital are coming up nicely. The corn is up about six inches out of the ground. Should nothing injure the corn and the wheat a large crop will be harvested. The alfalfa, which was sowed at the hospital by Superintendent Eyman as an experiment, is growing well, and from present indications it will thrive in Ohio. Alfalfa is used to feed horses, cattle, sheep and hogs. These animals will eat alfalfa before they will the hay.

Work on the new pig pens is progressing rapidly. Anthony Fink and two patients under the supervision of Carpenter Moasholder are constructing the pens. Owing to a mishap the drillers did not succeed in striking water in the well sunk this week. On Friday morning they were down eighty feet and it is probable that they will have to go down ten or fifteen feet more before water is struck. The well will be used to furnish water for the new hog pens.

The hospital board of trustees will meet at the hospital on June 22. At this meeting Superintendent Eyman will present to the board plans for the new entrance which will be built near the Navarre road.

OPERATORS ARE STANDING FIRM

Such is the Report Sent Out from Headquarters.

WEEKLY BENEFIT FOR MINERS.

Hardships are Already Being Felt by Some of the Strikers — Company's Stores Closed in Hocking Valley.

Columbus, June 9 —The adjournment of the joint conference between the miners and operators of Ohio has brought no cessation of labor to the officials of either side. The miners' officials have decided to remain firm for the 1903 wage scale and to carry on their efforts either to glorious triumph or bitter defeat. To wage this fight the miners now at work in Ohio mines will be called upon to help by giving a percentage of their wages and the national executive board will send about $20,000 weekly into this state.

John H. Winder has charge of the operator's side of the controversy. He says that he had just received assurances from operators who have been thought to be wavering that they are still standing pat and will continue to fight against any increase in wages. "According to my reports, our ranks are unbroken and are just as firm as they were two months ago," he said.

The Sunday Creek company opened with some heavy guns after the disagreement of the joint conference. Ever since the suspension in the Hocking valley April 1, the stores of the company have been kept open and its old employes have had credit at them in spite of the fact that they were on strike. That this has prevented much suffering among the women and children of the Hocking district there can be no doubt. Immediately upon the adjournment of the joint conference sine die, orders went out from the Sunday Creek company to close every one of its stores in the Hocking district. This order was to go into effect at once, the doors of the stores to be closed as soon as the order was received.

At the same time orders went to the fifteen or more mines of the company in West Virginia to post notices at once of the reopening of the mines on a non-union basis. The price paid for mining will be the same as that paid in 1904, but no distinction will be made between members and non members of the miners' organization and the union will be recognized in no way. No agreement will be signed and the miners will work on an individual basis in every mine of the company in West Virginia. It is expected that the West Virginia mines will be opened soon. Beyond the closing of the stores no action will be taken in the Hocking valley at present but it is said that there are some operators who are considering attempting to open their mines and pay the 1904 scale.

The miners' convention adopted the recommendations of President Green that the strike be carried on to the end and a resolution assessing all miners of the state who are working in organized mines 5 per cent of their wages, was adopted. Just what this will bring in cannot now be estimated. President Green estimates that 900 men are now at work in organized mines. This percentage will be "checked off" by the operators in accordance with the agreement and be sent to the state executive board for disbursement to the men on strike. The operators who are working will thus be called upon to furnish the money which will be used to fight their brother operators.

It was also announced that the national executive board will send $20,000 a week into Ohio for the use of the strikers and this, added to the sum raised in the state, will, it is estimated, be sufficient to give each miner on strike $3 a week.

Retail dealers in London report a marked falling off in the demand for American canned meats during the past week. Injury to trade is the surest method of securing reform in the packing houses.

It is complimentary to circus management that army officers have been specially assigned to accompany the shows on their tours of the country for the purpose of obtaining hints regarding the transportation and subsistence of a large organization constantly on the move. It is only fair to record that the military observers are deeply impressed with systematic work of the circus men.

One of the young men who is to make his bow to the public at the Patterson commencement of the Sugar creek township schools, to be held in the U. B. church at Justus Friday night, has taken as his subject "The Life of William McKinley." He is to be congratulated upon his selection. It was McKinley who wrote, back in his school days in the village of Poland, "Life is what we make it. Be it good or be it bad depends on how we take it." His own life was filled with hard and useful work and its study should be an inspiration to every American schoolboy.

The action of the board of education at its meeting Friday night will tend to strengthen the faculty of the high school. Two new teachers were appointed, Miss Esther M. Treudly, of Athens, O., a graduate of Ann Arbor, who will be instructor in English, and Miss Emma Shaw Lowe, a graduate of Radcliffe college, who will be assistant in that department. Both come to Massillon highly recommended. The board and Superintendent Cronebaugh are to be congratulated upon the success of their efforts to raise the high school to its proper position among the schools of the state.

The commercial and social value of the telephone is amply proved by the government statistics recently published. There are in the United States, exclusive of the rural lines of a co-operative nature, or those belonging to railroad companies, 4,151 telephone systems, with 4,850,486 miles of wire and paying out over $36,000,000 annually in salaries and wages. In 1902 there were over five billion messages transmitted over these miles of wire. There are 9,136 systems of independent rural lines. Ohio has 284 commercial systems, being third in the list, Indiana having 261 and Illinois 240.

The President's address to a graduating class of the Washington high school will meet with approval throughout the country. Undoubtedly there is something to be said for the youth and maiden who stand before an admiring audience giving instruction in the noble art of hitching one's wagon to a star but Mr. Roosevelt, with his usual sanity and clearness, remarks: "If there is one thing with which I have no sympathy it is with the type of oration very frequently delivered to graduating classes sometimes, I regret to say, delivered from pulpits. In forming lofty ideals as to what you are going to do in great crises, remember that the only possible way by which any one of you can fit yourself to meet a great crisis is by doing all of the ordinary humdrum, work-a-day duties as those work-a-day duties arise This applies to every man and every woman who counts in the world."

The state Republican convention at Harrisburg, Pa., nominated a ticket after five hours' unexcited session. Edwin Sydney Stuart, nominated for governor, is a bachelor, of Scotch-Irish parentage, and is 50 years of age. At 14 he began his business career as a clerk in a Pittsburg book store at three dollars per week. He is an ex-mayor of Philadelphia and, apart from his political prominence, is a past master of the Masonic order. Robert S. Murphy, nominee for the lieutenant governorship, is a son of Francis Murphy, the "Blue Ribbon Apostle." While the number of candidates before the convention was more or less confusing, and a large number of delegates favored Judge Buffington, who, at the last moment, sent a decisive telegram reiterating that he was not a candidate, it is felt that the ticket is strong enough to swing into line many members of the new Lincoln party, which is complicating the situation in Pennsylvania.

The two reports on the packing house conditions, by investigators from the department of agriculture, made public Friday, confirm in all essential points the Neill-Reynolds reports. The President in a letter to the House committee on agriculture reiterated his insistence on the enactment of a stringent inspection law. Word comes from Chicago that the packers are manifesting almost "a humorous haste to clean up, repair and even plan for future changes. The haste towards reform would have been amusing if it were not so nearly tragic." The endeavor of the meat interests is now to restore and save the domestic markets, for it is practically admitted by them that the foreign market is lost for many years to come. The blow that has been struck at the packers is seriously affecting the live stock dealers and raisers as well as many banks in the West. Representatives of the packers are endeavoring to use these facts to the prejudice of legislation, but, although some financial depression is unavoidable to them and to allied interests, the thoroughly aroused country at large will scarcely permit itself thus to be shunted off the straight road to drastic reform.

A plan has been suggested whereby the forecasts of the weather bureau can be made known earlier than at present to farmers, by means of the rural free mail delivery. The first daily forecast of the weather bureau is made at 8 a. m. and by 9:30 it has been telegraphed to all towns having a rural delivery. The incoming morning mail is stamped with the hour and day of its arrival, and a second stamp might easily be used at the receiving postoffice, giving in two words the latest weather predictions. The possible variations in the weather are not so numerous as they may appear to the chronic kicker, and a stamp could be provided for each one, with the advantage of these not requiring any renewal. By noon farmers, who benefit most by the weather forecasts, would be in possession of the latest prediction and could lay out their work accordingly. As it is now, they are dependent on the morning papers containing a forecast made the previous evening. While such a plan would prevent a great deal of damage to crops, there are two somewhat frivolous objections to be urged: First, that the weather man is not infallible, and second, that each farmer must have at least one pretty regular correspondent.

JUNE NIGHTS AND MORNINGS.

The beauty of nature during the early morning at this season of the year is only exceeded by the beauty of the evening. The Ohio State Journal wonders why the sun rises so early, but wonders still more and with greater reason why we don't all rise early likewise. The hour of 4 a. m is the most beautiful of the day.

And why should we not all be out then, says the State Journal. It is the happiest hour of the year. There is a soft sunlight over the skies. The flowers wear their happiest smiles. The birds are out with their fresh, sweet songs. The whole world seems new and young. It is a fairer land of dreams than one ever sees lying in bed. Whoever gets up with the sun lives a day's worth of life before lazybones rolls out of bed.

But says some solemn man: "I did not get to bed till so late that I had to sleep in the morning." Out watching the moon, perhaps! Well, there is an excuse. That full moon this week was so grand that whoever failed to see it stumbled and straggled along like a vagrant. If on last Wednesday night, or last night, the moon appeared for the first and last time, the whole earth would have been entranced with the sight. It would have been the epoch in any man's life, and he would be dating all his after experience with reference to the resplendent sight—the fairest that ever the denisons of the earth behold.

Nature surely has a lot to offer mankind just now and she is offering it without reserve. It is certain that no one can make too much of our June nights and mornings.

CANNON IS GENEROUS

Not Sitting on the Treasury's Lid Since He Became Speaker.

MANY MONUMENT BILLS PASSED

Presidential Possibilities—Four of Them In the Cabinet—Thought Taft Was Secretary of Everything. Champ Clark Consoled.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 9.—[Special.]—Speaker Cannon is more generous than Chairman Cannon of the appropriations committee. The house has passed a number of senate bills for monuments to commemorate great events and great men. They include the battlefields of Princeton, the landing of the pilgrims and the celebrated King's Mountain battle in South Carolina. Besides, monuments are provided for Commodore Barry and the poet Longfellow. Speaker Cannon not only consented to the passage of these bills, but he helped to get them through the house by providing that they should be passed under suspension of the rules. Chairman Cannon would have fought these bills with that vigor which characterized him when he had the reputation of being the economist of congress. It is possible that Speaker Cannon is getting more generous as time goes on.

Presidential Possibilities.

Reference was made recently to the campaign which Secretary Shaw seems to be making for the presidency and, the suggestion is advanced that perhaps it is because the president desires to have as many possible successors as he can in his cabinet that he insists on Shaw remaining. He has four in his cabinet now. Besides Shaw there are Elihu Root, secretary of state; William H. Taft, secretary of war, and George B. Cortelyou, postmaster general. There may be others who think they are possibilities, but their environments are such that they cannot be considered. Of course, Mr. Roosevelt cannot get all the possibilities in his cabinet. He cannot have the vice president, the speaker and the senior senator from Ohio or the junior senator from Pennsylvania, although the latter was once a member of his cabinet and the former the most earnest supporter the president had in the senate. But four possibilities in one cabinet would seem to be enough.

Petrified Forest Again.

For as many sessions as Representative Lacey of Iowa has been chairman of the committee on public lands, and that is during the past twelve years, he has reported bills making the Arizona petrified forest a public park. There is something like two townships of land embraced in this great wonderland, and the object of making a park of it is to have it protected from spoliation by curiosity hunters.

They Don't Know.

"Who is secretary of the treasury?" asked the leader of a delegation at the big money department of the government. He was told it was Shaw.

"I didn't know but it was Taft," he replied. "Taft is at the head of so many things."

And he didn't mean it for a joke either, for he displayed equal ignorance concerning many other important matters in Washington. But many people do not know what most of us here think is necessary public information.

When He Goes Out He's Dead.

The late Senator Gorman was very much admired by Dan Voorhees, the Democratic senator from Indiana who attained a position of partial leadership in the senate. Voorhees died soon after he left the senate, and some one went to Gorman and asked him if the senate could not take notice of the death of an ex-senator. "No," replied the Maryland senator. "When a man passes out of that door he's dead." A short time afterward Gorman was "dead" politically, but he was brought to life by being returned to the senate again and died in the harness.

Clark and Williams.

If John Sharp Williams should be elected speaker of the house no doubt Champ Clark would be made chairman of the committee on ways and means. Friends of Clark console him with the second place in the house by saying that a man had better be chairman of the ways and means committee and have his name associated with a tariff bill than to be speaker. These friends of Clark refer him to the fact that when Reed and McKinley contested for the speakership Reed won, but McKinley became president because his name was associated with a tariff bill. "It is better to have your name attached to a great tariff measure even if it is not passed rather than to be speaker," is the assurance which Clark's friends give him. "Besides," they add, "there are presidential possibilities for men who are chairmen of ways and means and make a tariff bill." Probably this does not excite Clark very much, but it sounds pleasant.

A New England Senator.

"That man Gallinger is a remarkable man," was said referring to the New Hampshire senator the other day. And how true was the remark! Here is a man who was a country doctor, not a lawyer familiar with knotty problems, but he became chairman of the merchant marine commission, and he went to the bottom of the subject of shipping. He put through his bill, and during the debate he handled the measure with a skill that was wonderful. He knew all about it. He could answer all questions and all arguments, and there never was a running debate on any feature of the bill in which he came out second best.

CHILD POPE'S PLAYMATE.

His Holiness on His Knees Hunts For Little Girl's Medal.

The five-year-old daughter of Dan Hanna of Cleveland came from Europe with her mother the other day declaring that Pope Pius X. is a fine playmate, says the New York World.

During her stay in Rome Mrs. Hanna had a special audience with his holiness and took her little daughter along. At the termination of the audience Mrs. Hanna withdrew. In the antechamber she missed her daughter. Retracing her steps, she was amazed to find the head of the Catholic church of the entire world down on his hands and knees, with the child in a similar position, both apparently searching for something.

Little Miss Hanna doesn't speak Latin or Italian, nor does his holiness speak English, but the little American miss was giving minute instructions to her distinguished playmate in a baby patois that he pretended to understand. For two minutes his holiness and little Miss Hanna, both oblivious to the presence of a number of cardinals and Mrs. Hanna, groped about the floor, turning up the edges of rugs.

Finally the pope held up a tiny medallion.

"Oh, that's it!" cried little Miss Hanna. The pope patted her head, and after expressing thanks Mrs. Hanna led her venturesome little daughter away.

"Why, papa," she said in describing her experience at the Gotham hotel on her return, "I losted my medal and went back after it. I told the nice old gentleman about it. He shook his head like he understood, and when I began to look on the floor he got down on his hands and knees and helped me. He found it first. He is a very nice man, papa. Don't you think so?"

Mr. Hanna replied that he was sure of it.

RIGID MEAT INSPECTION.

Regulations Packers In Germany Must Follow.

We do not pretend to be letter perfect on German regulations, but we happen to know a little about the lordly butcher and the lordly packer who undertake to do business under German rule, says the Hartford Courant.

If he ventures to kill a steer or a hog before it has been duly inspected and he is caught—as he is sure to be sooner or later—the carcass of the animal, whether healthy or unhealthy, is taken away from him and burned to a cinder. Two or three experiences of this sort teach him that the regulations in this field are not made for show or for the delusion of meat eaters, but for plain, everyday use, seven days in the week. And the inspection before the animal is slaughtered is only the beginning.

After it is slaughtered the carcass is inspected from the inside, and when a doubt arises as to its condition it also is taken away and burned. Finally those carcasses that are in sound condition are quartered and otherwise cut up for the butcher's stall where the people go to buy their meat. Here a third official guarantee of the purity of the product is given to the consumer. Every piece of the carcass thus prepared for sale, no matter into how many pieces it is divided, must have a little official label on it before an ounce of it can be sold.

BOY SOLD FOR JUNK.

Wriggled Out of Bag After His Companions Got the Price.

Eddie Gallagher, aged eight, of Saco, Me., was sold the other day at a quarter of a cent a pound, says a special dispatch from Bangor, Me., to the Philadelphia Press. It was all a joke on Solomon Solmer, a junk dealer.

Some of the boys of the town wanted to raise a stake, and into Solmer's shop they brought what appeared to be a bag of old rags and iron. It weighed forty pounds. Solmer gave the boys a dime, and they retired, grinning.

Presently there was a strange wriggling inside the bag; then it moved toward the door. Solmer overcame his terror sufficiently to untie the bag, whereupon out jumped Eddie Gallagher. He fled amid the lamentations of the junk dealer.

Insubmergible Ships.

Some interesting experiments have been conducted at Kiel during the past few days in the practical testing of insubmergible steamers, says the London Globe. The operations were conducted in the presence of some of the chief naval authorities and of leading representatives of the great German shipping and shipbuilding companies. A cargo steamer built upon the insubmergible patent of the New Navigation company was fully loaded, and a crew was taken on board. Water was then let into the engine room until the water in the vessel rose to sea level. As the ship's deck then remained still eighteen inches above water, its insubmergibility was held to have been fully demonstrated. The company has now five of these steamers under construction.

A Revolver Competition.

A revolver competition will be held at the United States armory in Springfield, Mass., in September to select a weapon for general use in the regular army and to determine whether an automatic model is feasible, says a Springfield dispatch. The trial will be conducted by ordnance department officers. It is understood that the war department considers that the caliber of automatic revolvers now in use is not sufficiently large and that the patents are not up to date. The test will be open to all the revolver manufacturers in the country, and models will be thoroughly tested by experts. Army men all over the country are much interested in the outcome of the tests.

ALIENS FOR THE SOUTH

She Must Offer More to Get Immigrants, Says Watchorn.

ADVISES AN INCREASE IN WAGES

Commissioner of Immigration Says Europeans Coming to the United States Have a Definite Aim—As an Experiment Members of Southern Commission Try to Change Their Minds, but In Vain.

"If the south wants immigrants she will have to raise wages to the level that prevails in the north and west."

This was the blunt advice given to the southern states immigration commission by Robert Watchorn, commissioner of immigration. He welcomed some thirty members of the new organization to Ellis island the other day, showed them the workings of the place and told them what they would have to expect in the attempt to deflect immigration toward the south, says the New York Times.

"You may think that immigrants come to this country without knowing where they are going," said Commissioner Watchorn, "and that you can get them as they land from the boats. It is not so. Out of every 400 that come here 399 know exactly where they are going. If you try to make them change their minds by telling them how superior the south is they are apt to think you are 'confidence men.' If you don't believe it just come downstairs and see how many you can persuade to alter their course."

The commissioner and the visitors trooped into the "railroad room," where dozens of swarthy Europeans were waiting to be shipped off. The Louisiana representative approached a staring Italian, and the other southerners crowded around to listen.

"What is your business?" asked the Louisiana man through the interpreter.

"Bricklayer," answered the Italian.

Then the southerner began to tell of the manifold advantages of living in Louisiana, how an immigrant could get ten acres of land, a house, farming implements and many other things. The Italian listened stolidly. When he had heard the tale to the end he said:

"Farming—it is not my business."

That was all he had to say. The man from Louisiana said he hadn't had a fair chance. He was looking for a farmer. Commissioner Watchorn found five Greek farmers all in a row. To one of them, who said he was bound west to meet a cousin, was told the manifold advantages of Louisiana. The interpreter told him about the pigs and the cows and the green grass and the kind treatment he would get. Looking at the stout man from Louisiana, the Greek asked abruptly:

"Who are you? Whom do you represent?"

The answer did not make the foreigner enthusiastic.

"I'll go to my cousin," he announced.

"That's the way it is with 399 out of 400," said Commissioner Watchorn. "The best chance you have is to get them after they reach their destination—if they are disillusionized."

Several immigrants who had been excluded by the board of special inquiry were brought into the commissioner's office on appeal, so that the visitors could see how the system worked. Three little Swedes, a boy of fourteen and twins of eleven, were the first comers. Their brother wanted them out in Minnesota, but his affidavit had not satisfied the board. When they filed in a big Georgian said:

"I'll take 'em right now."

"I'll give 'em a home and take care of 'em," volunteered a Tennesseean.

Their offers were not in order, though, and the commissioner proceeded to question the children. Finally he decided to overrule the board's decision and let them go to Minnesota. That pleased the audience, and everybody applauded. The immigrants who followed the Swedes, though, were evidently unfit, and the board's decisions were upheld.

Luncheon was served on the Ellis island roof garden, which is the coolest anywhere around New York city. Then the commissioner told the southern states immigration commission that he would always aid them in their work, and he invited them to visit Ellis island whenever they could. They left vowing that Robert Watchorn was unsurpassed both as an official and a host.

At a business meeting of the southern states immigration commission in the afternoon T. K. Bruner of North Carolina was elected president, D. W. Coons of Kentucky vice president and David Robinson secretary and treasurer.

Diamond Key Rings a New Fad.

Women whose brothers, husbands or sweethearts are so wealthy that to remember their birthdays with the ordinary gifts of silver match boxes or cigarette cases is out of the question have taken to presenting them with little key rings incrusted with diamonds, says the New York Press. Any one in doubt as to what to give a man friend will find these attractive although not inexpensive trifles exactly fill the bill. "Of course," said one young woman who had just purchased one for her lance, "he will think more of the spirit of the gift than its actual value."

Piping All Hands to the Pole.

The new balloon to reach the pole
Is shaped like a cigar;
So "puffing," if it's strong enough,
Should carry it afar.
"But," say the folk who love a joke,
"The chances are 'twill end in smoke."

Well, let the airship for the trip
Be like a pipe in form,
With a supply of good "returns"
To bring it back through storm
And stress and help its gallant crew
To take of things a birdseye view.

JOINT EX-SOLDIERS' HOME.

Phares Bell's Proposition to Establish Institution in Florida.

Phares Bell, who fought in the Union army during the civil war and who now resides at Sumpterville, Fla., was in Pittsburg recently to stir up sentiment favorable to the establishment of a large institution in Florida where survivors of the Confederate as well as the Union army may be cared for in their declining years, says a Pittsburg special to the St. Louis Republic. Mr. Bell intends to carry his project to Washington and present it to President Roosevelt with a view to getting federal aid for the home.

Mr. Bell said that the ex-Confederate is poorly cared for in comparison with the man who fought on the northern side. Soldiers' homes are rare in the south, and it is a feeling of amity and the fact that union is again completely established which have prompted Mr. Bell and others to undertake the present movement.

Mr. Bell said that as the south has to bear an equal burden with the north in the payment of pensions to the Union soldiers, her veterans, whose present day loyalty to the Union is not to be questioned, are entitled to certain assistance.

He stated that it was the intention to have probably 2,000 acres set aside for a soldiers' home near Sumpterville. He has assurances that $2,000,000 could be raised in the south inside of six months. This money would be used in erecting the buildings. Aid that would be asked of the national government would be for equipping the buildings and maintaining them. He says after assurances are received that the government would join hands in the manner requested the president would be asked to appoint a commission to govern the institution.

Mr. Bell fought throughout the civil war as a member of the Eighth Michigan volunteers. He is a former resident of Cleveland, but has lived many years in the south. He says that if the gulf coast is not desired as a location for the institution Henry M. Flagler has promised to aid in getting 2,000 acres on the Atlantic coast.

AUTOMOBILE THAT FLIES.

Cincinnati Inventor Whose Machine Takes a Run and Jump.

B. F. Howe, a Cincinnati mechanic, has invented an automobile which, he says, flies. A patent on it has recently been taken out, says a Springfield (O.) dispatch to the Kansas City Times. The flying apparatus consists of three canvas sails, one of which is concave. Among these sails are twenty-seven propellers. The sails are connected with a light car by steel tubing, making a firm framework. The sails are maneuvered by a lever inside the car, much the same as the tiller of a sailboat. The power is an electrical engine of thirty horsepower. The mode of navigation is as follows:

After gaining sufficient speed on the ground the sails of the machine are tilted upward, forcing the machine into the air. After leaving the ground the power of the engine is used to turn the propellers under the wings. The machine will not be capable of attaining any great height, but is intended to skim along at a distance of about 200 feet from the ground.

AUTO FACE'S SUCCESSOR.

"Motor Heart" the Newest Affliction, Due to High Speed.

A man is compelled to harden his heart while running or riding in an automobile in the city streets, according to the latest story, or take chances of an attack of heart failure, says the Philadelphia Record. The tendency of pedestrians, particularly of little children, to dart unexpectedly into the path of the machine gives many a heart a sudden wrench.

"Children seem to spring out of the ground," says an auto driver. "Unless one is always keyed to the top notch, ready to swerve away from a pedestrian, there is serious danger. The result is that an auto driver must have a specially controlled heart if he wants to last in the business."

Scouring Up the White House.

As soon as the president leaves the White House for the summer extensive repairs will be begun on the mansion under the direction of Colonel Charles S. Bromwell, superintendent of public grounds and buildings, says the Washington Post. The blue room will be thoroughly overhauled. The tapestries will be replaced by new ones, which will probably be ordered from abroad, as it is thought duplicates cannot be obtained in the United States. No alterations will be made in the general appearance of the room except that the floors will be scraped and polished and the woodwork refinished. The lower floors of the White House will be gone over and all of them thoroughly cleaned and repolished. A great deal of painting will be done here also.

Weary Willy It at Last.

[This is the day for the man with a patch on his breeches to come forward and for the man of the dollar to go to the rear.—President Roosevelt.]

Willy, you have patient been; you've
Suffered long from our disdain,
To say naught of pies and cakes and
Dogs with which we gave you pain.

Now your day is here; come forward!
You've no dollars—what enriches
You in our eyes and befits you
Are the patches on your breeches.

Not with strenuous effort could you
Win approval and get riches,
So you're beckoned forward now because
You've patches on your breeches.

Willy, you are poor, but maybe
Not too honest—no, you shirker—
Just enough to keep you out of Jail, like many a dollared worker.

As for you, you men of money,
The muck rake's got you in the ditches.
His day has come, and off your hat is
To him with patches on his breeches.

"AFTER ME" HER PET NAME.

Friend Tells Incident of How Vanderbilt Baby Was Thus Named.

Apropos of the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt during the recent horse show in Philadelphia there is an interesting little story of domestic life at Newport related by one of Mr. Vanderbilt's friends the other day. It runs as follows, says a Philadelphia special dispatch to the Pittsburg Dispatch:

"Half the callers at the box of Mrs. Vanderbilt at the horse show ask her about 'After Me.'

"The meaning of that is not often apparent to the uninitiated. To these it may be recalled that Mrs. Vanderbilt is a proud mother. 'After Me' is the baby's pet name, and thereby hangs a little tale.

"Just after the little girl was born, Jan. 24, 1904, a friend of the young mother dropped in to see the small new heiress. 'And what are you going to call the dear?' asked the friend of the baby's mother. 'Oh, after me,' said Mrs. Vanderbilt.

"A day or two afterward the same friend rang up the New York house of the Vanderbilts and inquired after the health of 'After Me.' 'After Me?' echoed the voice in some wonder at the other end of the telephone. 'Oh, yes; I understand now.' And the fond young father thought it so good that they all got to calling the new Vanderbilt baby 'After Me.'"

BIG VANADIUM DISCOVERY.

Capitalists Expect It to Work Wonders In Steel Industry.

What is said to promise the revolutionizing of the making of iron and steel is the recent discovery by a syndicate of Pittsburg and New York capitalists of large deposits of almost pure vanadium in Peru, says a Pittsburg special to the Philadelphia Press

It is reported that Standard Oil interests are prominently identified with the company, which has secured all rights and concessions from the Peruvian government for operation.

The deposit is said to be the only one of its kind in the world, and preparations are under way to establish a $50,000 laboratory in this vicinity to carry out scientific experiments to determine to what extent this rare and valuable element can be applied, aside from the field of iron and steel making.

Vanadium is a gray white powder which has given the peculiar toughness and resistance to Swedish iron. A corps of engineers and chemists has just returned from Peru, and, according to their investigations and tests, the deposit is almost pure vanadium.

MARRIAGE ON $10 A WEEK.

An Intricate Problem Solved at Chicago Commons.

Diplomas certifying that the recipients are qualified to "keep house" for husbands receiving wages of $10 a week were given recently to several young women at Chicago Commons. The graduates, all of whom are to be married soon, were members of a class in economical housekeeping and cooking, says a Chicago dispatch.

The economical graduates offered theses in the way of exhibits of breakfasts, luncheons and dinners that were attractive, had cost little and were palatable. Each dish bore a card indicating its cost.

A breakfast was shown that was prepared at an expense of 19 cents and would suffice for four persons. Dinners ranged somewhat more expensive, one consisting of meat, two vegetables, a salad and a pudding for four being rated at 40 cents.

Fortune In Boy's Dirty Feet.

Because John Hermann, a small boy in Lincoln, Neb., forgot his mother's command to be sure and wash his feet before going to bed several Lincoln men seem to owe him the chance to make a fortune, says a Sioux City special to the Chicago Record-Herald. An antiphlogistine factory is to be started in consequence, the antiseptic application to be manufactured from clay banks in the southern part of the city. The boy, who had gone barefooted for the first time this year, awoke the next morning to find that his clay covered feet were blistered. Dr. Winnett after examining the clay with which the youngster's feet was coated declared that all it needed to obtain a very good quality of antiphlogistine, of Denver mud, was the addition of glycerin and an antiseptic. The doctors and the owners of the land through which the clay banks run at once made plans for a factory.

Golden Circlets For the Hair.

Women who have returned from Paris recently have brought specimens of a new hair ornament, a gold circlet like a bracelet, but larger says the New York Press. The slender gold band, set with jewels, has a comb at each side to hold it in place. A society girl who is to be married soon wore one of the circlets a few nights ago in Sherry's at New York, and the result was highly effective. Her hair was full around the face and was piled in a high knot on top, the circlet fitting closely around the base of the knot. The effect was to make an aureole of her beautiful bronze hair with the crown set off by the Roman gold band, which was studded with small diamonds.

June.

The robin watching o'er his nest
Sings a melodious, joyful tune;
The wood thrush flutes his very best
To tell us all that this is June.

The lingering sun, though loath to set,
Brings twilight shadows all too soon.
Would he might linger longer yet;
No day can be too long in June.

The honeysuckle scents the air,
The treetops murmur to the moon,
Earth seems without a stain or care,
And lovers whisper—this is June.

OHIO TROOPS ORDERED HOME

Adjutant General Hughes Has Consultation With Sheriff Vorhees.

MINES MAY REOPEN MONDAY

Governor Pattison Refuses North Carolina Governor's Application for Extradition of a Circus Man—Deadlock Broken in Seventeenth District Democratic Convention—Ohio News.

Wheeling, W. Va., June 9.—Brigadier General Speaks said in an interview over the telephone that all the Ohio troops in the Jefferson county mining regions would start for home today. He said the order was given by Adjutant General Hughes after a consultation with the sheriff of the county.

Dillonvale, O., June 9.—The situation in the eastern Ohio district is such that Sheriff Vorhees has deemed it necessary to transfer the companies of state troops now stationed at Bradley to Dillonvale. Sheriff Vorhees has been informed by officials of the M. A. Hanna Coal Company that it will resume operations here Monday and that the company fears trouble from the strikers. The company is depending on a number of its old employes returning to work under last year's scale, and officials say some of the old employes have told the management that if the whistle is blown Monday they will return to work regardless of what the union officials may say. At Robyville and Ramsey the Roby Coal Company notified pit bosses to prepare the mines for resumption with non-union men Monday, but they refused to comply and quit. The company is now arranging to import men.

Chief Inspector of Mines George Harrison made an inspection of the mines now under surveillance of the state guards. Mr. Harrison states that the visit was simply to see that inexperienced men employed were being looked after in the mines and safeguarded against dangers. The inspectors visited Plum Run, Crow Hollow, Rush Run, Moore's Run, Dillonvale, Adena, Bradley, Smithfield, Bellaire and other points. We were permitted to go everywhere on the property," said Mr. Harrison, "and to mingle freely among the striking miners, who seem to be taking matters good humoredly and express themselves as highly pleased with the exchange made from undisciplined, and, in some cases, uncouth, inconsiderate guards, to the trained Ohio Soldier."

Circus Man Ordered Released.

Columbus, June 9.—Governor Pattison refused the application of the governor of North Carolina for the extradition of William T. Spaeth on the charge of having been connected with the robbery of $30,000 of the funds of Sells Brothers show in 1904. The announcement of the refusal of the requisition was accompanied by a statement by the governor of his reasons. He ordered the release of Spaeth because he holds he is not a fugitive from justice. Governor Pattison was especially well equipped to pass upon the Spaeth requisition papers, for he himself was attorney for this same state of North Carolina in a very similar requisition case. The disclosure of this coincidence has a direct bearing upon the question raised by State Printer Mark Slater as to the ability of the governor to perform his duties.

Ashbrook Wins.

New Philadelphia, O., June 9.—William A. Ashbrook, of Licking county, was nominated for congress by the Seventeenth district Democrats on the 277th ballot. He received 161 votes to 19 for Hurst and 67 for Wertz of Wayne county. Tuscarawas county is responsible for the nomination of Ashbrook, having broken the deadlock after 48 hours of fruitless balloting. Wayne county refused to desert Wertz, despite his release following a plea for harmony. Ashbrook is editor of the Independent at Johnstown, Licking county, and was a member of the last session of the legislature.

Lower Court Sustained.

Dayton, O., June 9.—The circuit court considered the appeal of William Hammel for a new trial. Hammel is under sentence of death for the murder of an old scissors grinder. He is sentenced to die on June 28. The court made no recommendation, sustaining the lower court.

Victim of Tetanus.

Portsmouth, O., June 9.—George Phillips, son of Rev. and Mrs. H. T. Phillips, of Buena Vista, this county, died in terrible agony from lockjaw resulting from stepping on a rusty nail. The youth suffered one convulsion after another.

Farmer Ends His Life.

Hillsboro, O., June 9.—James Carey, a farmer, living a few miles north of here, suicided by hanging. No cause is known for the act. He was about 52 years old and a brother of County Commissioner Carey and Dr. Carey, of this city.

Disastrous Fire.

Waverly, O., June 9.—Fire destroyed the T. L. Kemp woolen mills, the Waverly mills and the James Emmitt distillery. Total loss, $25,000.

Jamestown Commissioner.

Cincinnati, O., June 9.—Governor Pattison appointed Braxton W. Campbell, of Cincinnati, as a member of the Jamestown exposition commission. The appointment is to the membership which was declined by John W. Bookwalter. Mr. Campbell is an attorney. He was nominated for congress by the Democrats some years ago. He is also a personal friend of Governor Pattison.

Slater Would See Governor.

Columbus, O., June 9.—Lewis B. Houck, secretary to Governor Pattison, conferred with Mark Slater, and urged the state printer to abandon his claim to the office. The Dayton man declined to surrender, though it was said Secretary Houck offered to have J. W. Johnson, Governor Pattison's appointee, retain in office A. A. Alger, Slater's chief clerk. A counter proposition was made by Slater. It was that he would relinquish the office if he and a friend were allowed to visit the governor in Christ hospital, and if the interview with the chief executive satisfied them that he was able to discharge his public duties. Secretary Houck declined this proposal.

Bryan Club Formed.

Cincinnati, O., June 9.—The Bryan wave has struck Cincinnati. There was filed at Columbus application for incorporation of the Bryan Democratic club of Hamilton county. It will seek to have Bryan indorsed by the city, county and state Democratic conventions.

Fight at Picnic.

Hamilton, O., June 9.—The picnic of the Cincinnati colored military club at Woodsdale park ended in a general fight. Many were injured and Arthur Cain, 17, of Cincinnati, in his fright ran into the Miami river and was drowned. His body was not found.

TO AVOID ARREST

Americans Desert Cananea Mines and Hasten Across the Border.

Bisbee, Ariz., June 9.—As a result of the strike at Cananea, Mexico, the mines of Colonel Greene, last week, the American miners in the camp will be very few in the future, it is believed. They are crossing the line now in droves and several hundred have arrived in Bisbee during the last 48 hours. On Thursday the Mexican authorities sent a miner through the mines notifying all American miners that those who were under suspicion of having agitated the trouble at Cananea and had openly sympathized with the striking Mexicans would on the following day be placed under arrest. The result was a general exodus of Americans.

Official Ball Question Settled.

Cincinnati, June 9.—The question of an official ball, which has caused much feeling in the American association for several months, was the subject for a decision of the national commission. Quotations from the national agreement are given to show that only the Spaulding and Reach balls are recognized and that the clubs playing under the national agreement must abide by that rule. The matter came up on request of the Toledo, Columbus, Indianapolis and Minneapolis clubs for a ruling whether they must be bound by the contract entered into by the national association directors for the Victor ball to the exclusion of all others.

SHOT BY POSSE.

Confesses to a Crime for Which Another is Doing Time.

Enid, Okla., June 9.—Cole Ward, a well-known young man, was shot and killed by members of a sheriff's posse. Ward was in company with his half sister, whom, it is alleged, he was abducting. He opened fire on the officers when an arrest was attempted. After being fatally wounded, Ward confessed to having killed Martin Julian near Ponca City last fall, for which crime Al Harpster is now serving a life sentence in the Lansing penitentiary. Harpster was recently convicted in the Kay county district court, stoutly maintaining his innocence.

Charges Against Jerome.

New York, June 9.—Sworn charges, embracing a felony and misdemeanors, have been filed with Governor Higgins against William Travers Jerome, together with a demand for Jerome's removal from the office of district attorney of New York county. The charges are preferred by five reputable citizens of New York. They are W. N. Amory, Chapman Dwight, Joseph C. Hurley, Edward P. White and Robert Baker. The complaint charges that Jerome has wilfully omitted to perform his public duty and that he received $50,000 from the large life insurance companies toward his campaign fund last fall.

Dozen Passengers Hurt.

Davenport, Ia., June 9.—Rock Island passenger No. 6, east bound, was derailed at Jennings, Kas., and twelve passengers were hurt, none dangerously. The engine and three cars left the rails. A surgeon on board the train made it possible for all the passengers to come on with the train when the track was cleared.

Shot Her Husband.

Terre Haute, June 9.—William Robertson had started to beat his wife for the second time, when in order to protect herself, she fired the fatal shot. Public sympathy is with the woman because of her husband's alleged cruelty, and the officials announce she will not be prosecuted.

An Easy Creditor.

The stomach listens to no precepts. It begs and clamors. And yet it is not an obdurate creditor. It is dismissed with a small payment, if only you give it what you owe, and not as much as you can.—Seneca.

MAKE HASTE TO CLEAN UP

President Reports Feverish Activity at the Big Packing Plants.

INVESTIGATION NOT FINISHED

Commissioner Neill Among the Day's Callers at the White House—Proceedings of the House and Senate and General Intelligence of the National Capital.

Washington, June 9.—In response to a request from the house committee on agriculture, President Roosevelt forwarded to Representative Wadsworth, the chairman of that committee, the report made to him by a committee of the department of agriculture, regarding conditions in the Chicago meat packing houses. Accompanying the report was a letter from the president, in which he points out that there is no conflict in substance between the Neill-Reynolds report and that of the agricultural department experts. The president quotes a letter "received from a most competent, and trustworthy witness in Chicago," to the effect that the packing house proprietors are manifesting a most "humorous haste to clean up, repave and even to plan for future changes."

New toilet rooms are being provided, with additional dressing rooms and clean towels. The report says that "the haste toward reform would have been amusing if it were not so nearly tragic."

The president says his investigations have not been completed, but that "enough has been developed in my judgment to call for immediate, thorough going and radical enlargement of the powers of the government inspecting all meats which enter into interstate and foreign commerce."

Commissioner Charles Neill, who assisted in making the investigation of the western packing houses for the president, was one of the day's callers at the White House. After a brief conference with the president, he declined to talk for publication about the beef inspection question. He would not say whether an additional report would be made to congress. It is well understood that an inquiry into packing house conditions is being continued at the instance of the president. This report has not been made to the president yet, but probably will be in a few days. Whether it will be used in a public way remains yet to be determined.

Want Smoot Ousted.

Washington, June 9.—That Reed Smoot, of Utah, should no longer be permitted to hold his seat in the United States senate was the unanimous sentiment of the National League of Women's organizations, declared at a special meeting in this city which was presided over by Mrs. Frederick Schoff, of Philadelphia, who also is president of the Mothers' congress. Resolutions were unanimously adopted, reciting among other things that Senator Smoot "sits in the senate as an apostle of polygamy and the representative of a treasonable organization," and therefore should no longer "remain a member of its body and participate in the making of laws for the moral and patriotic guidance of the women and children of our beloved country."

House Proceedings.

Washington, June 9.—With the exception of an hour spent on pension legislation, in which time 357 bills for the relief of soldiers in the Civil and Spanish wars were passed, the house labored upon the sundry civil bill, making much headway toward final passage. Under the lead of Mr. Keifer (Ohio the house refused to transport silver coins and other money by registered mail, insisting that their transportation should be handled by the express companies as at present. During the arguments it was contended that the west and south wanted silver dollars for circulation.

For Revolutionists.

Washington, June 9.—The state department has been advised from Panama that the steamer Empire, flying the American flag, is reported to have sailed from Corinto, Nicaragua, for San Jose, Guatemala, carrying arms and ammunition for the revolutionists. No information has been received by the department concerning the steamer since its sailing.

In the Senate.

Washington, June 9.—The senate listened to two set speeches, one by Senator Morgan in support of his resolution providing for an investigation by a senate committee of the affairs of the Isle of Pines, and the other by Senator Hopkins in opposition to the sea level Panama canal bill. Neither measure was acted upon.

Scale of 1903 Prevails.

Kansas City, June 9.—The settlement of the southwestern coal strike by a sub-committee of the miners and operators, assisted by John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, was ratified by the full conference. Orders to clean up the mines have been issued and work will be resumed June 16. The settlement covers Kansas, Indian Territory, Arkansas, Missouri and Texas, and involves 32,000 men. The 1903 scale is to prevail for two years and small difficulties at seventy mines are to be arbitrated.

The hotels have already booked nearly all of their rooms and space in hundreds of boarding houses is being allotted to those who have written the committee on arrangements. The program on entertainment covers three days, opening on Wednesday, June 13, when the welcoming of Kentucky to its returned sons and daughters will take place in the new armory. Hon. Henry Watterson, Governor Beckman and Mayor Barth will extend the welcome which will be responded to by former Governor David R. Francis, of St. Louis.

SUCCEEDS GORMAN.

Former Senator Whyte Named by the Governor of Maryland.

Baltimore, June 9.—Governor Edwin Warfield announced from the executive mansion that he has appointed William Pinckney Whyte to fill the vacancy in the United States senate, caused by the death of Arthur Pue Gorman. Ex-Governor and Ex-Senator Whyte will enter the United States senate for the third time and for the second time by appointment to fill an unexpired term, he having been named by Governor Swann to fill out the term of the late Senator Johnson upon the appointment of the latter as minister to England in 1886. Mr. Whyte was born in Baltimore in 1824. He is a graduate of the Harvard law school and was admitted to the bar in 1846.

Dispensary Inquest.

Columbia, S. C., June 9.—W. A. Clark, president of the Carolina National bank, testified before the dispensary investigating committee that he had had frequent conversations with S. K. Lanahan, of William Lanahan and company, of Baltimore, and that Mr. Lanahan had complained that although he had $200,000 invested in manufacturing enterprises in Columbia he could not get his due proportion of orders from the dispensary. He put in evidence a letter which he had received from Lanahan and had turned over to Governor Hayward. The latter declared his intention to remove the purchasing board if Mr. Lanahan would furnish specific information. That was in December, 1904, and in the month following Governor Hayward recommended to the legislature that the entire purchasing system be changed.

Found in Canal.

Benton Harbor, Mich., June 9.—The body of Henry Kuhlman, of Chicago, who disappeared from his summer home at Glenlord, five days ago, was was found in a ship canal at Benton Harbor. From the condition of the body it is believed that the man was killed before his body was thrown into the water.

Open Door in Manchuria.

WINDSTORMS DO DAMAGE

Property Loss Heavy In Michigan and Eastern Ontario.

FATALITIES ALSO REPORTED

Buildings Leveled in Hamilton and Chatham, Wires Knocked Down and Crops Destroyed—Detroit Also Hard Hit, and a Panic is Narrowly Averted at a Race Track.

Detroit, Mich., June 9.—A terrific windstorm swept over a section of Michigan and eastern Ontario, and as a result all wire communication between this city and Canadian points east of Chatham was cut off for hours. Chatham suffered severe property loss from the storm, which unroofed houses, blew down trees, felled wires and filled the streets with debris; but no loss of live resulted and no one was seriously hurt. Considerable property damage is reported from small towns and farms between here and Chatham.

A torrential rain storm, accompanied by a forty-mile wind, also struck Detroit. Rainfall in less than an hour measured 1.36 inches and the wind in five minutes sprang from a gentle six-mile breeze to 40 miles an hour. Trees were felled all over the city, causing severe damage to wires and putting several telephones out of commission. Several street car lines were held up by broken trolley wires during the busiest hours of the evening.

Unconfirmed reports of loss of life on the river are current. One of these reports was that eight lives were lost on the river near Wolfs, a resort on the Canadian shore, a mile above the head of Belle Isle; another was that a child had been picked up by the wind and swept off the Belle Isle bridge. Both the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies are making desperate efforts to reach interior Canadian points. Long distance telephone service east of Chatham is also cut off. Efforts to reach Canadian points by way of the Grand Trunk railroad's wires along its Sarnia branch were also unsuccessful owing to storm damage. Reports from the eastern part of the state tell of a severe storm with considerable property damage.

Storm Hits Race Track.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 9.—A terrific wind and rain storm swept over the country between Hamilton and Niagara Falls, Ont. The wind storm reached the proportions of a cyclone around the race track at Hamilton. The horses were parading past the stand for the second race when the storm came up. They were sent back to the paddock and everybody sought shelter. The skies were overcast with heavy black clouds and the wind tore over the course at the rate of 75 to 80 miles an hour. Many of the crowd ran to the infield, where they laid flat on the ground to avoid being struck by flying debris. The rain fell in torrents. It was all over in 20 minutes and racing was resumed. So far as known no lives were lost.

Buildings Levelled.

Hamilton, Ont., June 6.—A terrific wind and rain storm swept over Ontario from one end of southern peninsula to the other, demolishing buildings, uprooting trees and leaving telegraph and telephone lines in a tangled mass. Linemen who were sent out got as far as Dundas, five miles west of here. They report that miles of poles are down and that it will take several days to restore anything like normal conditions. Nothing like an accurate estimate of the damage can be given.

Tracks Under Water.

Winnipeg, June 9.—All eastbound trains on the Canadian Pacific railway are being held at Medicine Hat because of bad washouts at Walsh and Kincorth. The place has been without railway communication with the east since Thursday. Bridges were carried away at Kincorth, while at Walsh hundreds of yards of track are under water.

Strike Officially Ended.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 9.—The strike in the Indiana coal fields ended officially when the joint convention of operators and miners voted unanimously to adopt the report of the joint scale committee. Work will be resumed at once. The agreement is for two years and embodies the main points in the 1903 agreement with a few changes in conditions governing mining. The important changes in the joint agreement include an increase in wages of 5.55 per cent., providing for the elimination of petty strikes, changing the division of wages between machine runners and loaders and the elimination of the rule requiring cars at certain mines at 3 o'clock the night before work was expected. Local differences now will be settled without closing down mines.

Double Accident.

Webb City, Mo., June 9.—Two men were killed and two others injured in a double accident near here. F. L. McCoy and Chester Ogle, miners, were blown to atoms in a shaft by the premature explosion of shots set off by themselves in a mine near Cartersville. Scott Alfrey and H. K. Bishop, who answered the call for an ambulance, were injured when a freight train backed into the ambulance, tearing it to splinters.

RETAIL TRADE

Stimulated by Warmer Weather, Reports Bradstreet.

New York, June 9.—Bradstreet's says: Jobbing and wholesale lines are commencing to reflect the usual seasonable quietness. Nevertheless business is more active than is customary at this season and fall orders for dry goods, clothing, shoes and inter-related lines are of very good volume. Retail trade has been stimulated by warmer weather and the outlook is for a full season's trade. Industries with few exceptions are active, although the time is approaching when the usual summer shut downs will take place. Grain crop returns become more irregular as the season progresses, but that fact has not deterred purchases to any extent. As a whole the situation is equal to a year ago. The labor situation, though disturbed at different points, is considerably better. A good demand for dry goods and general supplies for San Francisco, where conditions are rapidly approaching normal, is noted at western centers. The return flow of money from the country is unmistakably large and railway earnings continue very heavy.

Greece Breaks With Roumania.

Athens, June 9.—The Greek minister at Bucharest has been ordered to announce the rupture of diplomatic relations with Roumania and all Greek officials have been directed to quit Roumania. The trouble between Greece and Roumania is due to the fact that the sultan of Turkey, in May, 1905, issued an irade officially recognizing the Roumanians, or Kutza-Vlach element, in Macedonia. This caused irritation among the Greeks, who boycotted those employing the Roumanian language in church service. As it is not possible for Greece and Roumania to attack each other on land or sea the only danger they can inflict is through an economic war.

Change of Ministry.

St. Petersburg, June 9.—The popular expectation that a change of ministry is imminent is fostered by the simultaneous departure of Premier Goremykin, several leading members of the council of the empire and other trusted advisers of Emperor Nicholas for a conference at Peterhof. The cabinet as a whole was not summoned and the results have not transpired; but ministers asserted that they did not expect immediate developments.

CUT TO THE QUICK.

At Cynthiana, Ky., Thomas J. Franklin, noted all over Kentucky for his large size, died of sunstroke.

Schauble-Oaks Commission Company, stock brokers, permanently closed its office at St. Louis, nine offices in Illinois towns and one at Evansville, Ind.

Fire destroyed the Palace hotel at Waurika, in Comanche county, O. T., causing a loss of $50,000. Half a dozen persons were injured slightly by jumping from windows.

In a fight at Tsaritsin, Russia, between Persians, whom local contractors imported to take the place of striking longshoremen, and a mob of strikers a score of the latter were killed.

A collision between two St. Louis-Memphis passenger trains on the Iron Mountain road, near Mengo, Mo., resulted in the death of Frank Reitchard, fireman, and injuries to four others.

First National bank at New York received through the mail from Washington an envelope containing a number of checks and drafts given for collection to the bank's young messenger, Wheelock Harvey, missing since Wednesday.

ETHICS OF BUSINESS.

Vacations Are Coupons on Bonds of Industry, Says Marcus M. Marks.

The National Association of Clothiers at its convention in Cincinnati recently elected Marcus M. Marks of New York as president, says a Cincinnati dispatch. Samuel Fleischman of New York was elected actuary.

At the annual banquet of the association held at the St. Nicholas hotel President Marks spoke on "Our Association," and in the course of his remarks expressed the view that complete absorption in business was unethical.

"We have no right to live only to do business," he said. "Business is a means, not an end. If a business man does not early cultivate a taste for the higher things in life he becomes so absorbed in the game of business that later on he cannot be happy without it. After he has a competence he continues in trade, like the squirrel going around the wheel, for lack of something better to do. He cannot enjoy leisure, though he has fairly earned it.

"Many an old merchant has told me with pride that he 'never took a vacation in his life.' I could not understand his pride. Vacations are the coupons on the bonds of industry that mature semiannually. Cut these coupons regularly, so that they in their turn may be vitalized and earn interest.

"It may seem to some that vacations are a loss, an extravagance. Quite the contrary; they are economically a profit. As a man can in the long run do better work in six days than in seven, so he can do better work in six months than in seven. Some merchants have the conceit that they cannot be spared. Let them go away, and their vanity will receive a shock. They will in most cases discover that the machine will move smoothly without their presence. If a man's idea of his indispensability is really well founded his business organization is a failure.

"Aside with conceit! Out with greed! Away with soul shriveling absorption! Let us enjoy life reasonably while we have it! We are not put on earth simply to make money or do business! Our neighbor pines for our friendship; let us give it to him freely! The unfortunate wanders hopelessly about; let us help to cheer him! Our government needs the assistance of its citizens to conserve civic virtue. Let us not be 'too busy!'"

An Ancient Traveler's Outfit.

A small "Traveler's Guide," dated 1780, contains a good deal of advice as to the luggage which should be carried. "Take," says the book, "two suits of clothes, one coffee colored and one blue; a chest flannel, a pair of leather breeches, a sleeping suit, three pairs of stockings, two pairs of gloves, two wigs, one hair bag (?), two caps, two hats, two pairs of shoes, one pair of slippers, six 'undershirts,' four 'overshirts,' six neckties, six collars, six handkerchiefs, four pairs of cuffs, three cravats, two pairs of cotton hose, two pairs of socks." But this is not all, as is shown by the following items: "Take a Bible, a book of sermons, a 'Traveler's Guide,' two albums, a diary, a quire of white paper, quills and ink, an almanac, a mirror, a silver watch, a silver snuff-box, a silver spoon, a pair of silver shoe buckles, a silver tie pin, three silver studs, a gold seal ring, a knife and fork with silver handles, a sewing case, an opera glass, a compass, a wax light and a tinder box, a toothbrush, a silver toothpick, a sword, a silver mounted cane, a padlock with which to fasten your door at night inside, a clothes brush, a box of medicine."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Moated Houses In England.

Helmingham Hall is the seat of Lord Tollemache in Suffolk, about eight miles from Ipswich. The existing drawbridge has been raised every night for the past 360 years, and the present owner does not allow the custom to become obsolete. Another fine example of a moated house is Leeds castle, about three miles southeast of Maidstone, in Kent, which, surrounded by its moat, forms almost a lake crossed by a single bridge. There is a fine moat at Wells, in Somersetshire, where the episcopal palace, an ancient castellated mansion, is surrounded with walls inclosing nearly seven acres of ground. This moat is supplied with water from St. Andrew's well.—London Standard.

Ciancinto Mannarino, the Italian of Alliance who was convicted of complicity in the murder of Allen Shriver by a plea of guilty to manslaughter which he entered during the early part of the week, was taken to the Ohio penitentiary by Sheriff Wilson, Saturday, leaving over the Pennsylvania road shortly after 9 o'clock. Mannarino was sentenced to five years at hard labor.

A surprise party was tendered S. A. Conrad at his home in East Main street Thursday evening in honor of his birthday anniversary. A supper, the feature of which was a large birthday cake with lighted candles, was served. Cards were played. Twenty-four guests were present, including Mr. and Mrs. George Stover, of Canal Fulton, and Miss Mildred Saint, of Sharpsburg, Pa.

Miss Mae Bartel entertained a few frinds informally at her home in East South street Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Adele Brown, whose marriage to Leo Falke, of Zanesville, is to occur soon. During the evening the engagement of Miss Millie G. Wilhelm, daughter of Mrs. Henry Wilhelm, to Frank R. Davis, of Cleveland, was announced. The marriage is to occur in the early fall.

Infirmary Directors Swearingen and Kelly, of Salem, spent Wednesday at Massillon in an effort to make more satisfactory arrangements for the burial of Columbiana county patients who die at the Massillon state hospital paupers, or without friends or relatives who claim the remains. The directors claim that Stark county officials have been charging them $34 for such burials, whereas the usual charge is but $5.

Vacation schools will open this summer in the buildings formerly used as parochial schools by St. John's and St. Paul's churches. They will open July 1 and continue for eight weeks. Plans for the season at St. John's school have not been completed. At St. Paul's the teacher will be Richard Sieberg, a graduate of the teachers' seminary at Woodville. Sixty pupils are already enrolled. The school will be open in the morning only. Bible history, singing and reading and writing in German and English will be taught.

Perry township will this year receive the state aid appropriation due Columbiana county for good roads construction. A mile of new road will be built south of Salem on the Lisbon road, just outside the city limits. State Highway Commissioner Sam Huston has approved the road, and today appointed City Engineer B. M. French, of this city, resident engineer to have charge of the work.—Canton Morning News.

Claude Pumphrey, the 19-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Pumphrey, was operated upon for appendicitis Thursday morning. The operation was thought to have been successful in the afternoon, when the patient was resting quietly. Dr. Pumphrey is in Boston attending a medical society's meeting and has not been reached either by telegraph or telephone, although efforts have been made constantly to communicate with him for the past twelve hours. Mrs. Pumphrey is also in Boston.

Miss Grace Williman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Williman, and David Crookston, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Crookston, of this city, were married at noon Wednesday at the country home of the bride's parents, the Rev. Mr. Bartheimas, pastor of the Mudbrook Lutheran church, officiating. The bride wore a gown of white silk trimmed with lace and carried white carnations. Miss Beulah Stoner was maid of honor, and Orrin Williman, a brother of the bride, was best man. The ceremony was followed by a dinner at which the guests numbered thirty-five. Mr. and Mrs. Crookston will make their home in Massillon.

With two exceptions members of the Massillon party which left last March for a trip to Japan, returned to Massillon Thursday afternoon. They were Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Russell, Miss Jessie Russell and Mrs. C. J. Brown. Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Baldwin are taking a trip through Yellowstone park and will return sometime next week. The travelers say that visitors to Japan are numerous this year and that they found Americans everywhere. Their trip from Yokohama to Seattle was remarkable in that the sea was like glass for the entire distance. One member of the party said that the motion of the boat was barely perceptible and that there was not a single case of sea sickness on board.

PROPOSITION TO CHRISTMAN CO.

One Has Been Made by the Board of Trade.

SPECIAL MEETING WAS HELD.

A Plan was Adopted by Which a Permanent Fund May be Raised for New Industries—Railroad Committee.

At a special meeting of the board of trade in the mayor's court room Friday evening, with President Croxton in the chair, an offer was made to the Christman Company to induce it to move its Dillonvale plant to this city, where it will be joined to the local shop. The offer was in substance as follows:

The board will loan the company $5,000 for five years without interest and will donate three acres of land on condition that the company increase its working capital by $30,000 and employ on an average fifty men per day for three hundred days in each year for the five years. If these conditions are met the board will donate the money and the land, conveying the latter by deed.

The proposed site is located on property owned by the board near the Wheeling & Lake Erie terminal yards. The proposition was made by a committee, which gave the substance of the offer, but said that before it could be presented it must be legally drawn up. The board adopted the recommendation of the committee and Secretary Brown said he would notify the company of the offer Saturday.

The board accepted a recommendation of a committee which presented a plan for raising a permanent fund, which shall be used to foster new industries. The plan is to have the members make subscriptions of a certain amount for each man employed by a new industry. The following pledge was adopted as the form by which stated sums will be given:

Massillon, O., ... 1906

For the purpose of inducing new industries to locate in Massillon, I .... hereby agree to pay to the treasurer of the board of trade, ... for each man employed by each of the new industries. This amount will not be called for until the directors of the board of trade and the committees are entirely satisfied as to the merit of the industry which agrees to locate at Massillon.

And I..... hereby agree on my part to make such payment to the treasurer upon demand.

.....

Member of Committee.

Upon the suggestion of J. L. Green, chairman of the railroad committee, President Croxton reduced the committee for making an investigation to three members with Mr. Green chairman.

The board gave the most time of the meeting to a discussion of the Christman proposition. All members showed a desire to have the shop remain in the city and to have the Dillonvale branch brought here.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

O. Humburger and R. W. McCaughey, of Massillon, William H. Garver, of Canal Dover and William H. Smith, of Clinton.

The directors chose the following officers: E. E. Fox, president; F. O. Humburger, vice president, William A. Garver treasurer and general manager. A permanent secretary has not been elected.

The purpose of the company is to put into operation the sand mill and stone quarries as soon as possible. The company's prospects for business are exceedingly bright. Mr. Garver will locate in Warwick at once and will be in charge of the company's interests.

DECISION IS IMPORTANT ONE

Council Enjoined from Making Arbitrary Light Rate.

A NEW POINT IN OHIO LAW.

Railroad Companies May Attack the Two-Cent Law Upon the Basis of a Finding Just Given to District Court.

Columbus, June 9.—Special Master Commissioner T. P. Linn has reported to the United States district court in this city his findings in a case brought against the Columbus Railway and Light Company to enjoin the operation of a five cent light ordinance. He finds the ordinance invalid and in contravention of the constitution and decides in favor of the light company in every instance.

The master's finding is regarded as of very far reaching effect by attorneys, who say it is the first time a United States court has held that a legislative body cannot fix an arbitrary rate for a public commodity. It is contended that if the decision stands the test of the United States supreme court, it will be impossible for council or state legislatures to fix rates for light of heat, if it can be shown that by the rates established the holders of the property do not get a fair return on their investment. It is said also that the steam railways in Ohio may successfully attack the two-cent passenger fare law as a result of this decision.

The master finds that if the ordinance passed by council July 5, 1904, fixing the maximum rate for light at five cents per kilowat hour should be enforced, the Columbus Railway and Light Company would be deprived of its property without due process of law; that seventy-five per cent of the company's customers under the date fixed by the ordinance would receive their light at cost or less than cost, which in itself is a violation of the constitutional right of the company; that the ordinance denies to the company the equal protection of the law. For these reasons the master finds that the court has jurisdiction in the case at issue, for to confiscate property is in violation of the federal constitution. The injuntion is made perpetual.

A GENERAL INSPECTION.

W. & L. E. Officials Will Start from Toledo Monday.

A general inspection of the Wheeling & Lake Erie lines will be made beginning next Monday out of Toledo east. The first day will be consumed in going over the Toledo division.

The party will be made up of Vice President B. A. Worthington, G. G. Yeomans, special representative of President Delano; H. T. Douglas, chief engineer; H. W. McMaster, general superintendent, C. V. Wood, superintendent of the Cleveland division; Superintendent Van Dusen, of the Toledo division; C. W. Coe, assistant superintendent, and the different train and and yard masters will accompany them over their respective territories.

It is learned that the object of the inspection is to put the officials in closer touch with the work.

Whether or not George Gould will be in the party is a conjecture. He has been reported as contemplating a tour over the Wheeling & Lake Erie lines and the coming occasion would present a good opportunity. To date he has not traveled over any of the Wheeling & Lake Erie lines on his present trip.

From any disease of the kidneys,
Be cured to stay cured.
Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.

Massillon people testify.
Here's one case of it:

Charles Myers, employed at Wm. Bantz's livery stable, and living at 17 Canal street, says: "Some time in the spring of 1900 I told the people of Massillon through our local papers that Doan's Kidney Pills had absolutely cured me of too frequent action of the kidneys, stopped the dull heavy aching in my loins and helped me in every way. Today, more than four years since I was first interviewed, I can only repeat that the cure Doan's Kidney Pills brought about at that time has been permanent. I have advised many other people to use this remedy and will always recommend it in cases of backache or kidney trouble."
